D. Course Substitutions

Dr. Tom pointed out that some CDL students registered for classes without valid IDs. Arlena recommended increasing the minimum age of 18 years requirement for admission into the DCL program. Dr. Agbaraji said he would meet with the Dean of Student Services and increase the minimum age requirement for CDL from 18 to 21 years.
Virgil pointed out that students who earn a “D” in a course and go to the higher level and end up struggling with subsequent courses. Sharon mentioned that students who do not take prerequisites end up struggling with higher level courses, so this issue needs to be addressed.

V. Course Substitution Policy
Kelly presented course substitution policy.

VI. Prerequisite Waiver Policy
Kelly presented Prerequisite Waiver Policy. This is to address the ABET findings that some students have had their courses waived and substituted with proper documentation. Dr. Stomp mentioned that one of the computer science courses requires a prerequisite, but some faculty are waiving it. Dr. Agbaraji stated if a course does not require a prerequisite, there is no point adding it and the waiving it, so it is better to remove the prerequisite entirely to avoid confusion.

Sherietta said that the issue with ABET transcripts happened a long time ago when NTU had only one academic advisor, and there was a high turnover in the registrar’s position three years ago. Now, there are four academic advisors and two counselors on board, so advising should be much better. She suggested that it would be a promising idea for faculty to bring out their course schedules two years in advance, the academic advisors would guide students about which courses will be available every semester.

Dr. Agbaraji recommends adding the faculty advisors to sign the registration forms as well, and if the faculty are not available to sign, the departments chairs could sign on their behalf. He further suggested sending both the Course Substitution and Prerequisite Policies to Dr. Lamperez for edits.

Dr. Sage indicated that if he were to be a student at NTU, he would be confused because there are many advisors – academic advisors and program advisors, so advising should be streamlined.
